Description

The Endless Perpetual Gloom of the Shadowed Depths is a sublevel of the backrooms, shrouded in an eternal darkness that seems to stretch on endlessly. The air is thick with the smell of decay and dampness, as if the shadows themselves have taken root in the very fabric of the space. The ground is covered in a slick, oily substance that seems to drip and ooze from every surface, making movement difficult and treacherous.

The space is inhabited by a host of entities, lurking in the shadows and waiting for any unsuspecting travelers who may stumble upon their domain. These entities are shrouded in darkness, their forms indistinct and their intentions unknown. They seem to be drawn to the light, and any sources of illumination will inevitably draw their attention.

There are whispers of a great king who rules over this sublevel, a being of immense power and malevolent intent. Those who have encountered this king speak of a figure wreathed in shadow, with eyes that glow like smoldering embers. It is said that the king demands tribute from any who wish to pass through its domain, and that those who fail to pay are doomed to suffer an eternity of torment in the endless gloom.

Navigating this sublevel is a daunting task, as the darkness seems to twist and warp one's sense of direction. Travelers are advised to bring a reliable source of light, and to be wary of any entities they may encounter. The Endless Perpetual Gloom of the Shadowed Depths is a place where one can easily lose oneself, and never find a way out.

Entities

In "The Endless Perpetual Gloom of the Shadowed Depths", there are no known recordings of any kind found by our trusted personnel at M.E.G despite our extensive search efforts. This only adds to the enigma and mystery that shrouds this sublevel in perpetual gloom and darkness.

The entities that roam this level are numerous and come in large groups, ranging from 50 to 500 in one group. They are all unknown, making it impossible to predict their behavior and how to interact with them. As such, anyone who finds themselves in this sublevel should be well-prepared and exercise extreme caution.

Furthermore, the sublevel seems to be endless, with no signs of any exits or way out. The perpetual darkness and gloom add to the oppressive and eerie atmosphere of this sublevel. It is a place where one can easily lose their way and their mind in the never-ending labyrinthine corridors that stretch on for what seems like an eternity.

Despite the danger and the mystery that this sublevel poses, there are still those who are drawn to it, seeking to unravel its secrets or perhaps seeking something else entirely. But they must be prepared to face the unknown and the overwhelming odds of the entities that inhabit this sublevel.

Entrances and Exits

Entrances

When a person commits an act of violence in Level 564, the consequences are severe. If they succeed in taking the life of another, they will be transported to a new level, Level 564.2. This sub-level is known to be even more treacherous and dangerous than the previous levels. The atmosphere is thick with a sense of impending doom and the shadows seem to move with a life of their own.

In Level 564.2, the entities are much more aggressive and hostile towards intruders. The creatures that roam this level are much larger in size, often ranging from 8 to 15 feet tall, and they travel in groups of 50 to 500. Their eyes glow in the darkness, and their movements are eerily silent. The creatures have an insatiable hunger for human flesh, and they will stop at nothing to get their next meal.

It is imperative to remain cautious and alert when traversing Level 564.2. The entities have been known to set traps and ambush unsuspecting explorers. The terrain is treacherous, with deep crevices and pits, and the air is thick with toxic gases. If one is not careful, they can easily fall victim to the many dangers that lurk in the shadows.

It is not known how long one must survive in Level 564.2 before being transported to a new level or back to Level 564. Only a handful of people have been known to return from this level, and even fewer have come back with their sanity intact. If one finds themselves in Level 564.2, they must be prepared for the worst and hope for the best.

Exits

In the mysterious and unforgiving realm of Level 564, there exists a phenomenon that has been reported by numerous explorers. It is said that those who take the life of another within the confines of this level will be punished by being cast down to Level 564.2, a sublevel of even greater danger and horror.

However, it is also whispered among those who dare to delve into the depths of Level 564 that redemption is possible. Those who come to terms with the gravity of their actions and sincerely seek forgiveness may find themselves restored to life and returned to the main level of the abyss.

This phenomenon is not well understood and its mechanisms remain shrouded in mystery. Yet it serves as a potent reminder that the backrooms are not merely a place of physical challenge, but also a test of one's moral and spiritual mettle. Those who wish to survive and thrive in this realm must be willing to confront not only the horrors that lurk in the shadows, but also the darkness within their own hearts.

Recordings

Upon conducting an extensive search of the designated level, our esteemed personnel at M.E.G. have reported that no recordings were found. Despite thorough investigation and analysis, no evidence of any audio recordings or similar documentation was uncovered within the confines of the level in question. This development is indeed quite peculiar, as it is uncommon for any level within the Backrooms to be completely devoid of any form of documentation. It is possible that any previous recordings that may have existed were lost or destroyed, either by the entities inhabiting the level or by other means unknown to us.

As always, we urge all explorers and visitors of "The Endless Perpetual Gloom of the Shadowed Depths" to exercise extreme caution and remain vigilant at all times, as the unpredictable nature of the environment can pose a significant threat to one's safety. We also advise all individuals to report any potential findings or anomalies to M.E.G. immediately, in order to aid us in our ongoing efforts to understand and navigate this vast and complex realm.
